PREFACE.

In presenting this Catalogue to the collectors and dealers of coins throughout the United States, it is not without a feeling of embarrassment on my part, as I am but little known to the majority of collectors and dealers. And while I solicit a friendly criticism, I hope a due allowance will be made for the fact that this is my first Catalogue.

This Catalogue comprises a part of the cabinet of Mr. J. E. Barratt, deceased, late of Jefferson, N. Y., to which has been added a few duplicate pieces out of my own private collection. Dr. Barratt was but little known to collectors and dealers in this country, and the most of his cabinet was brought from England. He was, however, a caterer, and supplied Messrs. Clubbuck & Colling, of Utica, now deceased, many pieces that adorned their cabinets. In perusing this Catalogue, no one will fail to note that it contains a great many rare and desirable pieces, and even the most advanced collector may find something to enrich his cabinet. To the ancient coins, I ask your particular attention, especially to the Medallions and first Bronze of Maximinus, Nero, Elogabalus, Domitian, &c. The Colonials are very fine and desirable, and the same reference may be made to the Mint Pattern pieces. While the American Cents and Half Cents abound in fine specimens, among which will be found an uncirculated 1793 Cent, of rare type, a very fine specimen of 1799 and 1804, and all the rare dates, including a very fine 1821, olive color, much valued at the present time. The American silver is fine, and contains Half Dimes, in fine condition, of 1794–95–97, 1800–1. Half Dols. of 1794–95, 1851–52. Also, 1873 Quarter and Half Dol., without arrows, in proof condition. The foreign silver is fine, and contains a fine crown of Christina of Sweden, 1640, Charles of Spain, 1645, Joseph Napoleon dollar of 1809. The foreign copper coins
